Manager Commentary

Government bonds continued the bear market in May. The risk appetite continued to rise and all risky assets continued to rally - global stock markets, credit bonds, emerging markets, commodities. European emerging markets, like Poland, Hungary and Turkey outperformed government bonds and posted a positive return on the month. Within EMU, Greece and Ireland outperformed Germany and spread tightened, Spain on the other hand underperformed Germany and spreads were wider.

Swedbank Pension Fund K1 NAV decreased by 0,1% in May but outperformed the benchmark by 60bp. Our main objective has been to reallocate the new benchmark weights on the fund and that process has started. Hence, most funds have larger weight of euros than before. Also we have bought German bonds to lower the risk.
