Manager Commentary

As the half-year has passed, the major global equity markets and riskier bond markets have rebounded strongly. This was partly a correction to the negative May and June. Fundamentally the equity markets have been supported by better than expected economic indicators (particularly in the euro area) and the publication of the Q2 earnings results. The largest growth in the fund's portfolio has been shown by equity investments in our nearby countries in the Central and Eastern Europe, in Sweden, Russia and the euro area, with monthly performances of almost up to 10%.

Swedbank Pension Fund K2 performance in July was +1.1% with YTD performance of +3.7%.

In the last week of July we reduced the equity positions in the fund's portfolio by a couple of percent. Regardless of the last month's predominantly positive signals we think that the recovery of the global economy will still be slow. The major central banks will keep the base interest rates at record lows also in the near future, but the fiscal policy stimuli will be gradually phased out in most major economies. The fund's currency positions have been affected most in July by the adoption of the final decision on the exchange rate of the Estonian kroon and the euro upon Estonia's accession to the euro area. By taking Estonian kroon positions against the euro through derivative deals, the fund has earned almost 35 million kroons during its history.

The value of the Fund's unit can either grow or decrease in time. The current return of the Fund shall not guarantee the same return in the future. Funds investing in foreign markets are vulnerable to monetary movements, which may lead to a growth or decrease of the net asset value of the Fund's unit. Pension Funds are founded on the basis of Funded Pensions Act. The following payment which conditionally consists of two parts - tax (4% portion of the social tax) and contribution (2% contribution of the state funded pension, withheld by the employer on the employee's gross wages) - shall be transferred to the mandatory funded pension account for a person who has joined the funded pension system.
